THE NEGRO RIOTS AT SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16.—A crowd of steel has been thrown around the capital city of Illinois. Four thousand state troops are on the ground in Springfield, a goodly portion of them patrolling the city. The balance are standing at camp, ready for action at a moment's notice.

Overwhelmed by the presence of this great body of troops, the largest assembly in an Illinois duty camp since the riots in Chicago in 1893, the lawless element of the city, white and black, which in its fury, has been responsible for the death of five persons since the rioting began on Friday night, made no demonstrations during the day or night.

Springfield tonight is as quiet as the grave. The city is under strict military rule. Saloons are closed tight, drug stores are closed and even ice cream parlors were given orders to-night to do no business after ten o'clock.

Soldiers are everywhere. Every street in the southern portion of the city is patrolled. Civilian guards, men with loaded rifles keep incessantly march up and down the thoroughfares. No gathering of citizens is permitted. Governor Deneen retired at ten o'clock to-night well satisfied with the situation. General Young, in command of the troops is confident his men have the situation well in hand. Further small riots are expected, but with the great body of troops quartered in the city, the officers are confident the trouble is about over.

Two more victims of the mob's violence died during the day. Frank Delmore, white, who was shot during the rioting Friday night, and William Cunningham, the aged negro who was fatally maltreated by the mob who strung him up to a telegraph pole and left him for dead were those added to the death list.

Two men, Abraham Raymer and Harry Humphrey, arrested on charge of conspiracy in the Delmore case, made a partial confession to the authorities.

A special grand jury to probe into the recent trouble in the city will be called to-morrow.

In nearly all the Protestant pulpits of the city the mob's violence and strongest terms.

Threats are freely made that as soon as the troops or the majority of the soldiers are ordered home the race war will break out anew with more violence than ever. The people of Springfield are not satisfied that the trouble is over. The exodus of negroes from Springfield continues all there is scarcely a black leg in the city at the present time. Nearby towns are releasing their darker negroes and sending them wandering on the face of the earth.

Full particulars of the rioting on Saturday are now to hand. After the arrest of the negro Richardson the mob in doubt as to his whereabouts surrounded him in front of the jail.

The sheriff offered to let a committee from the crowd search the jail, assuring them that both negroes were innocent.

"We will all go through," shouted someone in the crowd, and the cry was taken up by hundreds. Then someone in the crowd mentioned that Harry Lester, the restaurant man, had furnished the automobile in which the escape of the prisoners had been effected.

"On to Lester's," they shouted, and by this time the mob had been ready for anything. A rush was made upon the restaurant five blocks away. The proprietor was warned, but failing to appreciate the seriousness of the situation, did not attempt to escape until the mob was upon the place.

He was pushed by employees of the place, together with his wife, into a basement room for temporary safety. Short work was made of the restaurant. The automobile in which the rescue had been effected had been left in front of the place. It was quickly turned upside down and fire was set to the machine. While the machine blazed firebrands hurled poured into the safe, food fixtures and decorations from their place and piled them upon the blaze. Even the sideboards and kitchen were stripped and all the tableware and dishes piled upon the blaze. The fire first broke out in the safe, but soon spread to the rest of the building. A dozen times in efforts to disperse the crowds, again made a run to the restaurant but was powerless. Every line of hope that was stretched out had been cut by a stream of fire which had forced into it. The restaurant was stripped clean by the mob.

The local company of militia consisting of infantry and a troop of cavalry and a Gatling gun, which had been ordered out by Governor Deneen early in the afternoon, was tiny, near the jail and the local authorities had no time to spare for the Lester case, finally in a desperate effort to disperse the crowd, the cavalry troops were ordered to the restaurant. Then the rioting broke loose in serious form and shots were fired and the air was full of missiles. Many fell to the ground and it was here that Louis Johnson met his death. After the mob had moved to other scenes Johnson's body was picked up by the rear of Lester's place.

Shortly before midnight the mob broke into Edmund's pawnshop and secured a quantity of shot guns, rifles and revolvers and ammunition. With these they armed themselves and started to march the streets in company with the mob.

"Shoot back, gentlemen, or I'll shoot everyone of you who touches this mob," were the words of Eugene W. Chaffin, prohibition candidate for president, who fired a mob that had attacked a negro while Mr. Chaffin was delivering a public address at the east side of the square last night.

By his act Chaffin was struck on the left side of the face with a brick hurled by a member of the mob. Chaffin was well along in his speech when a negro pursued by a mob came toward the speaker's stand from the Fifth and Washington streets where he had been pulled from a street car and held him on the ground facing him with his fists and clubs. The negro finally got weary and jumped on the platform. It was at this point that Mr. Chaffin stepped to the front of the man, put his hand to his hip pocket and threatened to shoot anyone who touched the negro. Mr. Chaffin's threat had the desired effect although he had no weapon. During the fight the negro pulled a knife from his pocket and slashed several white men. Mr. Chaffin was not seriously injured. James Scott was struck by a stray bullet and almost instantly killed.

RAMPANT BLACKGUARDISM

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 16.—The hottest and most heinous that ever came from the Maritime Provinces, is remarked here. "The Ontarioans are an absolute contempt."

Some ten thousand emigrants have arrived from the east yesterday and today, five thousand arriving on five trains to-day. The trains were distinguished by stories of looting that would be a credit to an old colonial regiment, and the indiscriminate pillage of empty cans, bottles and other unnecessary impediments crowded the fire of many foreigners working on the section and double tracking between lake head and Winnipeg.

The result was seen in the last train Sunday which arrived with every cargo window smashed, the foreigners not discriminating between the harvesters on the first and later trains caused the latter to be a continuous gauntlet over the entire division. The more numerous excursions took to the upper level, but others returned the ricks with the addition of a continuous fire from such revolvers as they possessed and all superfluous impediments.

Frank McEwen, Georgetown, P. E. I., was struck and badly injured in the face. Frank Sprague was hit in the arm in Winnipeg and returned to Fort William as he is believed to have shot an Italian in the shoulder. Another foreigner was shot in the hand, but his assailant is not detected.

Regular pandemonium occurred at some places. The lawless element got the upperhand of the peaceably inclined, and the latter were forced to seek refuge in certain cars from which the others were excluded.

The trouble was under the influence of liquor most of the way, and it is asserted here that there were several cases of false enroute, one woman, it is said, being assaulted by no less than twelve men.

After the first experience, hotel and restaurants closed up on the arrival of trains, but in several cases doors were kept and stores were looted, the most open fashion.

Raising a disturbance at a hotel house, a lady placidly replied to the rioters, one MacDonald, Marquette, N. S., being shot in the back of the head, causing a death not dangerous.

King started out from Montreal on a wagon to walk from that city to Vancouver in 120 days. When he arrived at his destination he must be the possessor of $50, having commenced his journey without any money, and the conditions are that he must not beg, borrow, steal or sell, and every mile of the distance must be covered on foot. He is starting King made a deposit of $200 with the Montreal Standard, which, should he fail, is forfeited. Providing he makes the distance under the conditions he will be $1,000 from the Standard.

King is supposed to have his pass books stamped at the telegraph office of every town he passes through. He arrived at Glenora last Tuesday, and is supposed to have left Calgary yesterday, but when enquiries were made at the telegraph office it was stated that he had not called there. Sir Newell, the man arrested by the Mounted Police, is supposed to be following King to see that he is not the conditions set forth in the agreement. The police state that Newell went to O'Hara's store at Medicine Hat and bought a suit of clothes. When he left it was discovered that three ten dollar bills were missing. Word was flashed along the wire and when he arrived in Calgary his arrest was effected by Sgt. J. J. Wilson of the R. N. W. M. P. The police officer admitted the theft and was taken back to Medicine Hat for a hearing.

COMPLICATIONS IN MOROCCO

Tangier, Morocco, Aug. 16.—Reports received here tell of a battle near Marrakech, between the army of Mulai Hafid, the pretender, and the army of Mulai Aziz, the sultan of record, who is fighting for his throne.

The reports state that the losses on both sides were considerable over a thousand. The army of Mulai Aziz was utterly routed by Hafid's forces, which were led by English soldiers of fortune.

Mulai is following up his advantage and intends to strike continually until the army of the sultan is crushed. It is not unlikely, however, that France will come to the aid of the Sultan before the war is finished, and serious complications with England may result.

French diplomatic representatives here today expressed the fear that France would be forced to join with Mulai Aziz, the sultan of record, in order to protect her interests.

This is taken to mean that France resents the activity of the English soldiers in Hafid's army. The aid that is being given Mulai by the English is explained only on the ground that Mulai has promised the English many concessions in the way of railways, mines, customs control, financial reorganization and political posts in the event of his success over Mulai Aziz.

This has frightened the French financiers and they have appealed to the French authorities to find out just what Sir Ellis Ashmead-Bartlett and other Englishmen in the French chambers claim that there is a perfect "understanding" between Mulai and the English soldiers of fortune.

The trouble was under the influence of liquor most of the way, and it is asserted here that there were several cases of false enroute, one woman, it is said, being assaulted by no less than twelve men.

Raising a disturbance at a hotel house, a lady placidly replied to the rioters, one MacDonald, Marquette, N. S., being shot in the back of the head, causing a death not dangerous.

King started out from Montreal on a wagon to walk from that city to Vancouver in 120 days. When he arrived at his destination he must be the possessor of $50, having commenced his journey without any money, and the conditions are that he must not beg, borrow, steal or sell, and every mile of the distance must be covered on foot. He is starting King made a deposit of $200 with the Montreal Standard, which, should he fail, is forfeited. Providing he makes the distance under the conditions he will be $1,000 from the Standard.

King is supposed to have his pass books stamped at the telegraph office of every town he passes through. He arrived at Glenora last Tuesday, and is supposed to have left Calgary yesterday, but when enquiries were made at the telegraph office it was stated that he had not called there. Sir Newell, the man arrested by the Mounted Police, is supposed to be following King to see that he is not the conditions set forth in the agreement. The police state that Newell went to O'Hara's store at Medicine Hat and bought a suit of clothes. When he left it was discovered that three ten dollar bills were missing. Word was flashed along the wire and when he arrived in Calgary his arrest was effected by Sgt. J. J. Wilson of the R. N. W. M. P. The police officer admitted the theft and was taken back to Medicine Hat for a hearing.

OLD-FASHIONED BRITAIN.

(Mail and Empire.)

The local politicians in London who roped in "rake-offs" from the municipal contractors doing work at Mile End have been given a taste of British law. One of these gentlemen has gone to jail for two years with hard labor, and has been ordered to pay a fine of $150. Another has been sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment, and a fourth for nine months. The people and the courts in England seem to be extremely sensitive, and very old-fashioned. We, in Canada, do not put men in jail for grafting. Our practice is to send them to Parliament with a commission to graft some more. This is the new system, to which the first public man has not yet aspired.

It is remarkable how backward the English are in the matter of politics. Take the question of the nationalization of the public utilities, for instance, and anyone who studies it must admit that the Ottawa administration is far in advance of the Imperial Government. In Ottawa, bills for planning done for the country pass through newspaper offices, and are raised 25 per cent. The "rake-off" going to the newspaper. The paper in return, publishes valuable articles lauding the right honorable Premier and his honorable colleagues, the result being that public opinion favorable to the honorable gentleman who have devised this process is formed. Now, they would not think of that in Britain. Mr. Asquith, with all his ingenuity, does not seem to have got on to the idea of securing favorable attention from the press through distribution of money taken from the public treasury. But it is not only in this that the English are behind. There are some very hard-fought elections in the Old Country, and the Government has actually permitted itself to be beaten, while, if it had consulted the Ottawa statesman, it could have avoided that calamity. All it need do in order to pull through is to levy toll upon the contractors—who can be paid back with interest in the shape of contracts—and distribute the money thus acquired, either among ballot-box stuffers, or, carefully done up in yellow envelopes among the electors. The British public men are all right in many ways. They are good speakers, and elegant campaigners; but they have to come to our Ottawa rulers if they wish to learn how to win. These gentlemen do not even seem to know how to manoeuvre the "rake-off." Thousands of transactions go through in London, and nobody seems to get a commission out of them. And this state of affairs continues, although, as we know from experience with the Ottawa gentlemen, that the oracle can be easily worked. If the British Government desires to buy a piece of property it expropriates it, and gives the value fixed by arbitration. How absurd! Were it to profit by the Ottawa practice, instead of expropriating, it would "tip the wink" to a friend who takes an interest in politics, and this gentleman would secure an option on the land, whereupon the Government would buy from him at twice the price that had been paid.

The British are terribly behind the times in the matter of managing the affairs of the people. Some of them ought to come to Canada, and study the real thing at its source. We are apt to say that if they would copy the Ottawa plan the pursuit of going to jail for the trifling offence of "tip the wink" would be collecting a "rake-off" from the person doing business with the Government. It would be profitable to the politicians and men instead of with the public departments would be free from such puritanical persecution, and would adorn Parliament and perhaps wear the Windsor uniform.

Around the City

The Strathcona Baseball team's resignation from the Twilight League has been accepted. Edmonton now looks like finishing on top.

Mr. R. E. Palmer, city road superintendent, and Mrs. Palmer left this morning on a holiday trip to the coast.

A special meeting of the Strathcona board of trade will be held tonight at eight o'clock to consider the question of the site for the new government building.

This helped at once with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Just to prove it, a trial box will be mailed on request, by writing: Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. It goes. Sold by All Dealers.

The Inglewood Hotel is being to a large extent refurbished. Captain Carstairs and Harry McGinnis being determined to make this house second to none in Strathcona so far as comfort goes.

Lieut. Carmichael leaves on Wednesday next for Ottawa to take part in the Dominion rifle meet. He will be accompanied by E. C. Reid and A. McMichael, of Edmonton. D. McInnis of Strathcona, and S. S. Brown, of Edmonton, who are attending the rifle meet, will join them at Ottawa.

For the Canadian National Exhibition to be held at Toronto August 29th to September, the Canadian Pacific Railway will have in effect special round trip rates. For full information as to rates, dates of sales, limits, etc., apply to the nearest C. P. R. ticket agent.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative First, these tiny pills, Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fall. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or falling kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strathcona has falling nerves not the organs that are falling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by All Dealers.

It was intended to arrange for a big reception to Philip Wagner, Duncan Marshall, J. A. McKinnon and Fred W. Brown on their return, but this was also abandoned. Strathcona was to have joined in a reception to Mr. E. P. Lewis, alias J. P. Lewis, of Edmonton, Lacrosse, Selkirk, Warburton, and other places, but it has been held over until the identity of Mr. Lewis is fully established and a satisfactory explanation had from him as to why he denied his city.—Journal.

Pain anywhere stopped in 20 minutes with one of Dr. Shoop's Pain-Pain Tablets. The formula is on the 25-cent box. Ask your Doctor or Druggist about this formula. It stops every pain anywhere. Write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. for free trial, to prove value of his Headache, or Pink Pain Tablets. Sold by all Dealers.

The hearts of one or two of the government officials who had dropped to zero on Friday night were revived yesterday when news came to Liberal headquarters that Scott would have a majority. Why there should be any terror is difficult to see. The Conservative party are pledged to civil service reform and political considerations will not enter into the matter. How different it is now when the most paltry jobs go to the political beaver.

Mr. Ames' Meetings

The revised list of Mr. Ames' appointments in Alberta, in which he will be accompanied by Mr. McCarthy is as follows:
 Medicine Hat—August 14th.
 Calgary—August 17th.
 High River—August 18th.
 Lethbridge—August 19th.
 Macleod—August 20.
 Olds—August 21st.
 Red Deer—August 22nd.
 Strathcona—August 23.
 Edmonton—August 25.
 Vegreville—August 27.
 Lloydminster—August 28th.

THE MARATHON.

Although this race was not run under the same conditions as that from which it is named, yet it was of sufficiently severe character to test to the utmost the endurance of the various contestants. Practically every competitor partook of some nourishment in the course of the race; and it is reported that of the 28 who actually finished no less than 20 made Bovril their choice. Among these were Hayes, the winner; Donahoe, the first arrival; Hafferton, the official second; and Forsham, the third. It is stated that the quick results gained from the use of Bovril were really wonderful.
